MANNERCHOR CELEBRATION A BIG SUCCESS

Culminating twenty-five years of a successful organization, the Richmond Maennerchor played host to more than 3,000 happy singers and friends at Alvarado Municipal Park last Sunday.

High spot of the day's musical program was the concerted singing of the Sacramento Harmonie with the Richmond Municipal Band, directed by Anton Dorndorf, Richmond Maennchor director, in the beautiful melody of the "Blue Danube Waltz."

All day long and into the early hours of the night, the singers and their guests sang, danced, and enjoyed life.

The city officials and employees of the city of Richmond are deserving of great credit for the manner in which the local organization was assisted and honored in its twenty-fifth anniversary. Mayor Frank E. Tiller delivered a fine address which won the hearts of visitors from San Francisco, Sacramento, Stockton, Oakland, San Jose, and other points. The turn verein performed athletic feats under the leadership of Oscar Stelber. Emil Petry, president of the Richmond Maennerchor, gave a fine talk as did H. H. Kertz, president of the Pacific Saengerbund who he introduced.

INSPECTOR C. C. MARLEY GIVEN SURPRISE BY HIS FRIENDS

C. C. Marley, popular customs inspector of this port, was given a joyful surprise Wednesday nite at the Richmond Club when his many friends gathered to celebrate with him his birthday. About forty guests enjoyed dancing to the music of a three-piece orchestra, games, refreshments. Mrs. Niedrich sang a beautiful solo. The floor decoration were beautiful.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Kratzer, of New York City, who are spending their vacation with brother, C. C. Kratzer and wife of this city. From Oakland came Mr. and Mrs. A. Austin, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest W. Barber, Mr. and Mrs. Milton, Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Bold, Mr. and Mrs. William Niedrich, Lee Scott. Mr. Clayton Barber and Miss Dorothy Allen. From Richmond were Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Kaphan, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Poulson, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hynes, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Kratzer, Mr. and Mrs. Sam McKinstry, Misses Margaret Jenkins, Evelyn Parker, Alamae Brieger, Messrs. Phil Johnson, Ray Bowen, Lee Haley.

Gene Hancher on the Mend

We are glad to note our good friend, E. W. Hancher, prominent in credit and collection circles of this city, is again his busy self on the job after his recovery from a serious operation for mastoid recently. "Gene" has hosts of friends in Richmond.

NEWLY ELECTED OFFICERS OF AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY, INSTALLED

In a colorful ceremony at Memorial Hall last night Richmond Post No. 10, American Legion, and its sister organization, Auxiliary unit No. 10, installed their officers for the coming year of 1936-37.

Mrs. Pearl Smart, district auxiliary president, conducted the installation ceremonies for the ladies, which was marked by a gracious and purposeful address given by the new president, Mrs. Ruel S. Crose, while Past Commander Chas. W. W. St. John was assisted by Past Commanders Vickery, Crose, Bradley, Spires, Davis, Burt. Commander John "Barney" Kinstrey relinquished

FRIDAY HAS GONE

Shades of the Spanish revolution, we have our own troubles right here at home. Last Friday the good ship Polarine left for the high seas to bring home a load of whales or sardines. So far so good. But gone is "Friday," pet of Earl Janke, and there are sinster suspicions that "Friday" left on Friday on the Polarine without the knowledge of its owner. Now we do not want to enter any combat with anybody and maybe Earl's suspicions are justified, so if anyone sees "Friday" let the Progress office know. This canine can be easily identified, as Earl admits he is a mixed breed—we believe a mixture of wire-haired terrier, Irish setter, Mexican hairless, German daschund, Chinese chow dog. Reward for the apprehension of "Friday".

CARLSON TESTIMONIAL DINNER

Some time in the near future the Hon. Thomas M. Carlson, attorney for the Contra Costa Development Association, is to be given a testimonial dinner by his friends on the board. This is in the nature of an appreciation for the work which has been done by Mr. Carlson, not only in the present association, but also the Salt Water Barrier, Central Valley Water projects. His work on these public projects has caused Tom Carlson to be known as one of the real successful lawyers in California; and it is high time, and more than fitting, that a few flowers should be spread on.

All Democrats Are Invited To Attend The

Mass Meeting

To Be Held Next Tuesday
Evening at 8 p. m.

JULY 28, 1936

THIS MEETING IS FOR THE PURPOSE OF ORGANIZING THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY TO SUPPORT PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT DURING THE COMING CAMPAIGN, AND AFTER HIS ELECTION IN NOVEMBER.

All Democrats Invited

ROOSEVELT - GARNER

WILL ADDRESS RICHMOND DEMOCRATIC MASS MEETING

If plans of the committee in charge are consummated, six Democratic governors will speak to the mass meeting to be held at Lincoln School Auditorium on next Tuesday night.

Governor Brann of Maine will speak first. Then will follow in order Governor Earle of Pennsylvania, Governor Horner of Illinois, Governor Herring of Iowa, Governor Cochran of Nebraska, and Governor Martin of Oregon. Each will speak for nine minutes. Obviously, the Richmond audience will hear the address over radio loud-speaker systems, but, what matter, the governors will do the speaking and we will do the listening.

Reason for the meeting is the formation of an organization to support the Roosevelt - Garner Democratic ticket in a definite and effective manner. Notices of the mass meeting are being sent out to every registered Democratic voter in the first supervisorial district: some task as there are about 9,000 of them, as compared with about 6,000 republicans.

The formation of the party organizations will be entirely up to the people of this district which will work with the regularly elected Democratic County Central Committee to State Campaign Manager Clifford C. Anglim, to National Chairman Jim Farley and for President Roosevelt, himself.

Every Democrat is invited. There will be good speaking, entertainment, singing. Come one, come all.

J. STITT WILSON SPEAKS BEFORE ROOSEVELT CLUB

The Contra Costa Roosevelt Club is sponsoring a meeting to be held at the Brotherhood Hall, Fifth st. near Macdonald avenue, on Tuesday, July 28 at 7:30 p.m.

An authority on Economics and governmental problems, Mr. Wilson was selected by President Roosevelt to be a member of the California Delegation to the Democratic National Convention, and was further chosen as a member of the Sub-Committee which wrote the platform for the Democratic Party in Philadelphia this year. Mr. Wilson has just returned from an extended speaking tour in the President's behalf, in the East and Middle West which followed upon conference with President Roosevelt and other high government officials in Washington D.C. J. Stitt Wilson is the New Deal candidate for Congress in this district.

Landon and Lowden Are In Accord on Agriculture

COMPLETE endorsement of the presidential candidacy of Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas was given by former Gov. Frank O. Lowden of Illinois following a conference in Topeka. Following the conference former Governor Lowden announced that he and Governor Landon were in "full accord" on the question of farm relief.

Frank O. Lowden

The Illinois farm leader revealed that he had discussed soil erosion, reciprocal treaties, conservation of farm population, government aid in marketing surplus crops, centralizing of federal power and reduction of federal expenditures with Gov. Landon. Mr. Lowden declared:

"We are in accord on the important agricultural issues. I shall support him and campaign for his election."

Payment of cash federal bounties to soil - conserving farmers through a plan contemplating state administration was one of the farm principles advocated by Mr. Lowden which received the verbal support of Gov. Landon following the conference.

With the Republican presidential nominee at work on his acceptance speech, conferences with other leaders were scheduled. Important among these was the visit of George N. Peek, former AAA administrator who resigned his post following a break with Secretary of Agriculture Wallace and is now a New Deal critic. Also on the program was the visit of Col. Frank Knox, Governor Landon's running mate.

At Governor Landon's office a letter was made public from William Cabell Bruce, former Democratic senator from Maryland, saying that he was "bitterly disappointed" in President Roosevelt and "deeply gratified" at Governor Landon's nomination.

In the meantime members of the Kansas legislature had departed for their homes after submitting two constitutional amendments to the state's electorate. One of these would authorize state aid for the needy and the other would approve state participation in the federal social security plan. Both amendments were recommended by Governor Landon.

Dr. S. Parkes Cadman Is Taken by Death

DR. S. Parkes Cadman, who rose from the mines of England to international fame as a pulpit orator, died in Plattsburg, N. Y., at the age of seventy-one.

Dr. Cadman was pastor of the Central Congregational church of Brooklyn and was a former president of the Federal Council of Churches.

In his youth, Dr. Cadman worked as a "pony boy" in a mine in Shropshire, England. At fourteen he began to read theology; at seventeen he joined the church and at eighteen preached his first sermon. He came to America in 1890 with less than $100 in his pocket. Through a bishop whom he had met in London he obtained his first pastorate.

In his later years, Dr. Cadman had for his congregation all the people of the North American continent. He was the first of the "radio pastors" and his Sunday afternoon sermons reached the ears of millions.

His eloquence as a preacher brought him a steadily growing fame. Peace and temperance were the keystones of his philosophy, although he expressed his views freely on politics, civic affairs, literature and crime as well as religious affairs. His last public address dealt with "The World at the Crossroads."

New Austro-German Pact Makes Diplomatic History

A NEW era in European diplomacy was heralded with the signing of a treaty between Germany and Austria, re-establishing peace and normal relations between the two nations.

Since Italy has been acting in the role of big brother to Austria in the past two years it was regarded as a virtual certainty that Premier Mussolini had sanctioned the new pact. Observers pointed out that with Germany, Austria and Italy in accord and with Poland friendly to Hitler's aims, Europe now has a prospective alliance more powerful than the triple alliance of Germany, Italy and Austria-Hungary preceding the World war.

By the terms of the new Austro-German pact, the sovereignty of Austria is guaranteed, a friendly attitude by Austria toward Germany is promised, amnesty to Nazi agitators in Austria is given and freedom of Austrian Nazi now interned in Germany is permitted.

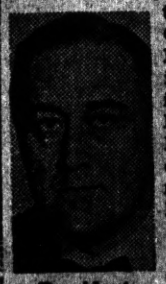
In sealing the Austro-German agreement Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg of Austria wired a message of congratulations to Chancellor Hitler expressing his conviction that the agreement "would be to the advantage of the whole German people." In replying Hitler expressed the wish "that this agreement will re-establish the old traditional relations springing from racial unity and the centuries long common history" of the two peoples. It is understood that both Hitler and Schuschnigg will meet in the near future, probably at Hitler's summer home at Berchtesgaden.

In diplomatic circles the signing of the new pact was regarded as another shrewd coup by Chancellor Hitler and Premier Mussolini. The German and Italian dictators have thrust a dictatorially governed Fascist and Nazi wedge through central Europe from the North Sea to the Mediterranean.

In Paris, French officials were quoted as seeing in the new agreement an initial step toward German annexation of the Austrian republic without resorting to war. They declared their belief that Hitler's actual entry into Vienna is now only a question of time. They expressed their belief that Hitler had signed the accord merely to have his hands free for action against the free city of Danzig and Czechoslovakia.

President Roosevelt Leaves for Nautical Vacation

AFTER dedicating New York's new $84,000,000 Tri-borough bridge, attending the wedding of Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen, minister to Denmark, to Captain Boerge Rohde of the Danish court and spending two days at his Hyde Park home, President Roosevelt embarked on a nautical vacation in Maine and Canadian waters.



President Roosevelt

On the bridge dedication program with the President were Secretary of the Interior Ickes, Gov. Lehman of New York, Senator Wagner and Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia of New York City. The bridge is the largest completed public works administration project in the East. It comprises four spans in its three and one-half miles of elevated ways and connects Manhattan, the Bronx and Queens, Long Island. Its cost is second only to that of the Golden Gate bridge at San Francisco.

Before leaving to board the schooner Sewanna, President Roosevelt conferred with a group of eastern state representatives on the matter of flood control. Representatives of New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia and other states hit by disastrous floods early this year met with the President.

On the cruise of the Sewanna, a 50-foot schooner yacht, President Roosevelt will act as skipper and helmsman. Three of his four sons, James, Franklin Jr., and John are members of the crew. The cruise will carry the President along the Maine coast to Campobello Island, New Brunswick, where his mother has a summer home and off Nova Scotia where he expects to do some deep sea fishing. A destroyer, the presidential yacht Potomac and the schooner Liberty carrying newspaper men are trailing the Sewanna.

Before he returns to the White House, the President will pay a visit to Lord Tweedsmuir, governor-general of Canada at Ottawa, the Dominion's capital.

Ruth Bryan Owen Becomes Bride of Danish Officer

ROMANCE outmaneuvered diplomacy when Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen, minister to Denmark, became the bride of Captain Boerge Rohde, gentleman-in-waiting to King Christian of Denmark. The wedding took place in St. James Chapel at Hyde Park, N. Y., in the presence of President Roosevelt who nominated Mrs. Owen as the country's first woman minister.

Ruth Bryan Owen

A few days after Mrs. Owen returned to the United States for the summer, the announcement of her engagement was made in Denmark by Captain Rohde's mother. A day or two later, Captain Rohde arrived in America and plans were made for an immediate wedding.

Mrs. Owen, who has announced that she will campaign for President Roosevelt's re-election after her wedding trip, will resume her post in Denmark later, continuing the use of the name Ruth Bryan Owen, in official life.

As attendants at the wedding, Mrs. Owen and Captain Rohde selected Fannie Hurst, the novelist, and Robert Lehman who is the bride's son-in-law and a cousin of Governor Lehman of New York.

Promise of Rains and Cooler Weather for Drouth Areas

WITH a recession of the extremely high temperatures promised and the prospect of rains, some measure of relief was in sight for the sun-parched drouth areas of the Great Plains. Rains which fell in portions of the Northwest revived scattered areas. But for day after day a record-breaking heat wave had brought temperatures ranging from 90 to 114 from the Rocky Mountains to the Appalachians.

Twenty-three states, eight of them in the South, were listed as suffering in some degree from the drouth. Ten of them—North and South Dakota, Montana, Wyoming, Minnesota, Missouri, Tennessee, Oklahoma, Virginia and South Carolina—were already in a critical stage. Five others—Kentucky, Georgia, Alabama, North Carolina and West Virginia—were borderline cases. Eight others where the full severity of the drouth had not yet been felt were: Nebraska, Wisconsin, Iowa, Michigan, Illinois, Kansas, Indiana and Ohio.

The sweltering heat and drouth spread into Canada. The prairie provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta—Canada's bread basket—had begun to suffer like their neighbors in the United States. Except for scattered local showers, there had been no rain from Ontario westward to the Canadian Rockies since June 16.

With the full extent of the damage in the "dust bowl" area of the Northwest not yet known, the federal government made plans to deal with a long-range disaster. President Roosevelt, taking personal command of the relief program in Washington, announced that he would make a personal tour of the drouth-stricken areas within the next few weeks.

The President announced that the federal government had prepared a comprehensive plan whereby 170,000 out of 204,000 farm families impoverished by the drouth in the Northwest would be given immediate cash assistance. He declared that he will make his trip after the relief program has had an opportunity to get under way, to see for himself exactly how much damage was caused by the drouth and whether financially-ruined families are receiving the proper assistance.

Fifteen Jap Army Officers Are Put to Death

FIFTEEN Japanese army officers who were leaders in last February's bloody rebellion in which four high-ranking government officials met assassination, were executed by a firing squad in Tokyo.

Two other officers condemned to death were not shot and no explanation was made by the war office. They were Captain Yoshiaki Nakamura and Captan Asiachi Isobe. Unofficial observers believed their lives were temporarily spared so that they might testify in trials of other men accused of complicity in the uprising of February 26 which pushed Japan close to the brink of civil war.

The condemned men were charged with murder, rebellion and disobedience to the commands of Emperor Hirohito. Prison terms were meted out to 44 non-commissioned officers and eight civilians for their complicity in the mutiny.

The drastic action of the high command in the name of the emperor in imposing so many death sentences was regarded as a strong effort to end political terrorism in the ranks of the Japanese army.

Threat of Farm Strike Worries French Nation

WITH the threat of a farm strike hanging ominously over France, riots in French cities and street clashes between the leftists supporting the popular front socialist regime of Premier Leon Blum and rightists who oppose it added to the unrest. The government made anxious efforts to dissuade farm workers from going on a strike for higher pay and better wages.

On five farms near Paris striking farm hands had actually occupied the land. While this was a localized situation, it was fraught with dangerous possibilities because the area affected not only provides most of the French capital's fresh vegetable supply but is an important wheat growing region as well.

Due to heavy rains and hot weather the wheat has ripened at an abnormally rapid rate. Should a widespread strike of farm hands occur that delayed the wheat cutting only a few days, experts were of the opinion that the entire crop of the region would be lost.

It was reported that agitators were circulating through the rural districts generally inciting farm laborers to organize for a strike and urging them to take over the employers' fields in the same way city workers occupied factories and shops in the recent "stay-in" strikes.

Green-Lewis Rift Brings Labor Crisis

AS THE long-awaited campaign to unionize the nation's steel industry was under way, one of the most serious crises in the history of the American labor movement arose when strife broke out between William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor and John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America and head of the Committee for Industrial Organization, who has promoted the unionization drive in the steel industry.

William Green

Meeting in Washington, the executive council of the American Federation of Labor considered the matter of suspending eight national and international unions on the ground that these eight unions have begun the formation of a rival, or dual labor federation.

John L. Lewis announced that he would not respond to a summons of the executive council to answer charges that he had violated the federation's policy by trying to organize 500,000 steel workers into one big industrial union instead of several unions divided by crafts.

Should the rift widen and a break occur, observers believe it would split the organized labor movement and affect its prestige and power at a critical time.

Denouncing the action of the Lewis group, President Green declared:

"It is sincerely to be regretted that the committee for industrial organization thwarted the purpose of the American Federation of Labor to inaugurate an organizing campaign in the steel industry.

"A very serious if not a fatal mistake was made when it flouted the decision of the last convention of the American Federation of Labor . . . and prevented the executive council from carrying out the convention's instructions 'to inaugurate, manage, promote and conduct an organizing campaign among the iron and steel workers at the earliest possible date.'"

Back of the collision over the attempted unionization of the steel industry are two contending schools of thought over the future of organized labor in America. One is that sponsored by Mr. Green which rose to power on a policy of trained craftsmen, trained by crafts. The other is championed by John L. Lewis who visions a powerful labor machine organized regardless of crafts, which includes the semi-skilled and unskilled workers as well as the trained craftsmen. The success of either Green or Lewis, it is believed, will herald a turning point in the history of American labor.

Rockefeller Celebrates His 97th Birthday

CUTTING a big cake to celebrate his ninety-seventh birthday, John D. Rockefeller predicted that he would live to be one hundred. Despite temperature of 92 in the shade, the famous nonagenarian donned a sun helmet and went outdoors on his summer estate near Lakewood, N. J.

The multimillionaire oil man and philanthropist did not let the celebration of his birthday interfere with his daily nap or his daily afternoon automobile ride.

Mr. Rockefeller long since has given up all forms of athletic activities, including golf, formerly his favorite pastime. A few years ago he was down to a few holes of golf a day, but now he has given it up entirely. It has been his custom to spend his winters at Ormond Beach, Fla., and his summers either at Lakewood or at his other estate at Pocantico Hills near Tarrytown, N. Y.

CORRECTION

It appears that the Progress gave Henry Ford's company too much credit in our story about the "woid pile" last week. We do know they used to give away wood, now it is sold by the wood dealers of this city. We had assumed that the Ford company gave the wood to the dealers for hauling it away. That is not so. The wood dealers pay a fair price for it, agree to keep the grounds clear for the company in the summer time when nobody wants it, will sell to any people, poor or rich, in the winter time for a fair price. In justice to the Ford company, though they haven't asked for it, we must state they would have been perfectly willing to continue on the old basis of giving the wood away, but there was no regularity in the demand for the wood; and, as we understand it, the present way of handling the situation is the best that can be devised at the present time.

As far as the Standard Oil Company and the herring run is concerned, this run happens only a few weeks each year. The herring are exceedingly troublesome in the water main and the company is only to glad to give them away to employes or those who wish them.

NOTA BENE

We understand that the merchants of Richmond are now pricing hemp rope to be used at a necking party for George Imbach and his fellow council members in case the federal government goes crazy and decides to take up the city council's offer of a free site for the postoffice out in the hinterland, near the Civic Center. The merchants say they can stand being separated from the city council by such mileage, but the post office is another story. We heard of one bet at 9 1-2 to 8 5-8 that the new post office would be located within a stone's throw of Uncle Ed's Hotel. Our personal opinion is that some such central location would be the only logical place for it

Statewide Bunco Ring That Dupes Merchants; Reported

SACRAMENTO—George F.Moynahan, secretary of the California Association of Highway Patrolmen, revealed the operations of a statewide bunco ring today and urged business and professional men to notify the nearest state patrol office of solicitations for advertising space, purportedly for the associations year book.

Moynahan said hundreds of dollars already had been paid out to solicitors attired as patrolmen and with apparently genuine credentials.

"But they are swindlers," the secretary declared. "We have given them no authorization to represent the association, nor have they any right to pose as officers."

He said solications were made in the name of the California Highway Patrol, and California Highway Potrolmen in addition to the association, while the men claimed to represent the following publications:

"The All City Employees' Association Magazine," "California Highway Patrol," "California State Employee," or the "Municipal Motorcycle Officers of California."

In several instances a solicitor presented himself as C. H. McDonald, transacted the spurious business and later "C. E. Murphy" collected payment for the contracted advertising space. Moynahan said the former was a forgery and the latter unauthorized.

"At first the men wore plain clothes but, later they adopted more cunning methods including impersonation of officers," Moynahan said. We want to break up this ring and therefore ask to cooperation of all persons. In the end both the associacion and the public will profit by its extermination.

"For purposes of identification, contact the nearest highway patrol office or local authorities when approached by a solicitor. Possibly he will be all right. However, he might be a member of the ring, attempting to mulct the business or professional man of more money."

Moynahan suggested that persons in larger communities contact their police departments.

SANTA FE LINES SCORE AGAIN IN LOS ANGELES

LOS ANGELES, July 17.—In clear-cut unequivocal fashion, outstanding officials and representatives of the Southland—from Los Angeles South to San Diego and East to San Bernardino—testified before the State Railroad Commission that its people want competition in local transportation. And they want, moreover lower rates as proposed by the Santa Fe.

This week in Los Angeles, Examiner Arthur Jenkins heard city officials, representatives of civic groups and leading business men state the case of San Bernardino and Riverside Counties.

Now the Summer recess of the Commission goes into effect, and hearings will be resumed at San Francisco August 18, to be followed by similar hearings in the San Joaquin Valley.

Tuesday and Wednesday Examiner Jenkins heard the opinions of leaders from the huge territory bordering the Arizona and Nevada lines. Resolutions indorsing the Santa Fe's applications for the right people to operate one-ticket, bus-rail, point-to-point passenger service in California at fares of one and one-half cents a mile, were received by the Railroad Commission from the following San Bernardino groups: Post No. 14 American Legion, Argonaut Club, Chamber of Commerce, United Commercial Travelers, City Council, Realty Board and Society of California Pioneers.

Other favoring resolutions were received from the Arlington Chamber of Commerce, Corona City Council, Riverside County Chamber of Commerce and West Riverside Chamber of Commerce.

Witnesses who represented the foregoing organizations gave their views, and were cross-examined at length by counsel for the Pacific Greyhound Lines, Southern Pacific Railway, Pacific Electric Railway, Motor Transit Company and Motor Carriers Association, all of whom are opposing the Santa Fe applications.

CALIF. HIGHWAY COUNCIL DENIES ENDORSEMENT

There has been no endorsement by the California Supervisors Association of the initiative measure proposed by the California Highways Council for the purported purpose of preventing diversion of the gasoline tax by amending the state constitution, despite published reports that such action was taken.

This was the statement today by Supervisor W. O. Russell of Yolo County, chairman of the Legislative Committee of the Supervisors Association. Russell said:

"In a widely published announcement issued by the California Highways Council it was directly implied that the Supervisors Association had endorsed the Council's initiative measure relating to the gasoline tax at its recent convention. As a matter of fact the Supervisors Association neither endorsed this particular plan nor considered it at all.

"What our Association did was reiterate its traditional policy of opposition to diversion of gasoline tax money to non-highway uses. The Supervisors' Association, like many other groups, would support a clean-cut anti-diversion amendment but it positively did not endorse the particular measure now being circulated.

"The Council's measure contains a number of other provisions, such as one that would place a constitutional limitation on any tax imposed upon Diesel fuel used by motor vehicles, and other features which are foreign to the subject of gasoline tax diversion. The Supervisors Association has neither studied nor approved or disapproved these various provisions, nature of a number of things contained in the measure the Supervisors Association regrets that its attitude has been erroneously represented by the California Highways Council."

A Clever Pinafore for the Little Girl

The clever cutting of this useful pinafore is shown in the small diagram beside the little girl. You will see at once that this frock requires no seaming and of course the feature which so greatly intrigues children is the butterfly which forms the pocket.

Notice how simple it is to put on, merely slipped over the head and tied at each side. Mothers find it a great help because it can be used as an apron over a frock, which must be kept clean, or worn instead of a frock. The panties to match are an asset—they have the comfortable French yoke top and stay snug but never bind. This attractive design made in cotton, percale, gingham, calico, or lawn would be effective with contrasting binding and colorful embroidery on the butterfly pocket.

Swim Suits Are Dark and Snug-Fitting This Season

Wine-and-white is the prize color combination for swim suits this season.

Navy-and-white comes next, and then black, in lustrous suits of elastic satin.

Most of the newest suits have a dressmaker look. They are closely fitted, complete with uplift brassiere top, halter necks and sunbacks.

The great-open-spaces fad, which left the tummy bare to the sun's rays, is doing a graceful fadeout.

Started Shoe-Throwing

The origin of the practice of throwing old shoes at bridal couples was the ancients' habit of transferring shoes to bind a bargain.

Pattern 5560

"Company's coming!"—so out with the best bedspread, the dresser's matching scarf, both crocheted this easy way. You'll have reason indeed, to be proud of this lacy pair, to say nothing of a tea or dinner cloth, buffet or vanity set, all of which grow little by little as you crochet a simple medallion in humble string. Repeated and joined they make stunning "heirlooms."

In pattern 5560 you will find complete instructions for making the square shown; an illustration of it and of all the stitches needed; material requirements.

Man Eats a Ton

According to science, a healthy youth weighing 100 pounds, eats 20 times his own weight during the year. A ton a year is what the average man is said to consume. Think how appalling it would be to see one's year's allowance of bread and butter, steak and tomato catchup, potatoes and salad and rice pudding laid end to end!

Too Fast to Be True

Measuring civilization's advance in railroad speed, it has progressed about 900 per cent in the last century, according to the record. A hundred years ago the New Orleans & Nashville railroad contracted for a locomotive which was to be guaranteed to drag a 200-ton load at 60 miles an hour. When the announcement reached the Boston Patriot that newspaper said the statement was a mistake. No one acquainted with the capabilities of a locomotive could for an instant imagine an engine capable of such power. It simply would not be practical.—New York Sun.

Money in the World

It is estimated that there is about $110,000,000,000 in money in the world. This is based on the gold reserves of 50 principal nations, which amount to approximately $22,000,000,000. There are variations as to different countries, but on an average the paper and other money is about five times the gold held. The United States at present is an exception, as it has a much higher proportion of gold. Some other countries are below the average.

Today's Women Stronger

Many women of today do not have to undergo the hardships which women of a few generations ago were subjected to in this country. Women who live in cities amid modern conveniences do not have the muscular development that their grandmothers may have had. On the other hand the general health of women is better today than it was formerly due to improved hygiene, more sensible clothing, the progress of medical science and the very general entrance of women into athletics. Therefore it cannot be said that women today are weaker in general than they were in their grandmothers' day.

Pt. Richmond—Harry Burt.

El Cerrito—Fred S. Newsom.

Oakley—J. E. Taylor.

Sharkey lauded the movement as one of prime importance to Contra Costa County and said he was pleased to take part in the program.

Sanford, who is managing director of the San Francisco Bay Industries Committee, and has long been connected with civic work in the bay region, and it had for some time been apparent that the county had need of a development organization similar to those which have advanced the interests of other cities and other sections in California and elsewhere.

"This association is the answer to that problem," he said, "and with the proper work and cooperation of all groups from all parts of thhe country, it can be the biggest tool ever forged for pushing Contra Costa forward to its manifest destiny."

Parr, in accepting the chairmanship of the executive committee, outlined the program, which he said calls for the development of all phases of the county—industrial, residential and agricultural, and that the people from these three groups must take a personal interest if the organization is to render the needed service. He emphasized the fact that the association does not interfere with local Chambers of Commerce but will act as a supplement to their programs and will seek to provide them with material and research data not hitherto available. He said a well organized program of publicity, both locally and to outside points, is to be arranged at once.

The directors of the new Association will meet once a month, probably at Martinez. The office from which it will operate will be announced at a later date, President Sharkey said.

The next rumor the Brooklyn baseball club will have to deny is that Frank Hague, Jersey City's mayor, will buy the joint and install Travis Jackson as manager . . . Latest suggestion for the What to Do With Carnera club . . . "Stuff him and save him for the laughs" . . . They are saying that Eddie Mayo, the neat fielding third sacker bought by the Giants, cannot hit southpaws. Yet last year he went to bat 122 times against left handers and had 39 hits for a .319 average. . . . When he loses a game Fred Frankhouse saves his temper by not reading the newspapers until two days later.

Could it be true that Joe Louis' managers requested Mrs. Joe to leave camp because the Bomber was spending more time in billing and cooing than in training? . . . . Anyhow, Mrs. Joe, who dotes upon fights and who never missed a workout, decided to stay in New York (instead of Lakewood) until after the night of June 18 . . . In the gay nineties a pitcher always warmed up with the first baseman, instead of the catcher, before entering the box.

Connie Mack Is Still Wizard in Rookie Hunt

In spite of gray hairs and advancing years, Connie Mack has not lost much of his skill in picking coming young ball players. Nicholson, the Washington (Md.) college outfielder who soon will be presented as a member of the Athletics, should make good in the big time within a year or so. He comes from Jimmie Foxx's neighborhood and another thing he hits almost as hard . . . James Graham, secretary of the Metropolitan Soccer league, once starred for the Norwood and Roslyn F. C. in Scotland. He helped organize the Greenock West of Scotland F. C. and is the proud holder of a Glasgow Juvenile Cup medal.

Sharp trainers already are beating the new rule requiring the jockeys' names to be released with overnight entries at metropolitan tracks. They wait until the 3:30 deadline before giving a name. Then, just as likely as not, they change the rider before race time the next day . . . There also is considerable tiffing going on because the celebrated bookies who crashed the clubhouses this year are said to be opposed to giving the same prices that are quoted in the main ring . . . Buddy Hassett, newest of Dodger heroes, has found a way to beat the autograph hunters who lie in wait outside Ebbets field. He borrows a pair of glasses from a reporter so that he can escape in disguise each afternoon.

Archie Walker, former lightweight contender, now works in the Curb Exchange Clearing house . . . Although it has been years since he won a bet, Jimmy Kelly, the celebrated Sullivan Streeter, still manages to breakfast on scrambled eggs and champagne . . . Hambla Bauer, the lady trainer from the West, who was merely given a badge by the New York Jockey club, can ride her own horses better than most jockeys.

Prize fighters who are seeking their fortunes down in Florida are getting little save sunburn this season. I saw two fast light-heavyweights perform the other night before a crowd of 600. There were four knockdowns before the final convincer was put on in the fifth. The winner's end was $8.

Miami would like to persuade one of the New York team to train there next year, but citizens still are putting the rap on Bill Terry. Their year-old complaint concerns the admission fee charged by the Giants . . . Phil Weintraub, the hard-hitting outfielder peddled by the Giants, also no longer loves his former boss. . . . Young Eddie Thomas, who got them off so neatly at Santa Anita, is the best starter since the celebrated and departed Dade, according to horsemen. He will work at Detroit this summer and they are hoping that the New York state racing commission will scout him.

Suggested sign for Shibe park, home of the ailing A's—"Abandon hope all ye who enter here." . . . Although some umpires are nubbed a dozen times a season, Bill Klem has never been hit by a batted ball during his 35 years of being the best of them all. . . . Duffy, the Boston college end who hopes to pitch for the Dodgers this year, looks like Rudy Vallee and knows it. . . . Jai Lai stars look enviously even at rookie ball players. Their sport requires rare skill and possibly is the world's fastest, yet $65 a week (with occasional $3 bonuses for winning games) is tops for them.

Bill Dwyer, the hockey, night club and racing magnate who was so badly bent only a few months ago, is getting back into the "ber-a-million" class. . . . Rumor mongers have it that Mike Jacob's contract for promoting Joe Louis' fights contains a loop-hole by which the Brown Bomber can forsake the Hearst A. C. when the time comes to battle for the heavyweight title.

BONECRUSHERS DEFEAT SHAW SERVICE STATION

In a thrilling though one-sided game, The Bonecrushers fought their way to glory last Sunday in pinning the Shaw Service Station team down to score of 2, while the Bonecrushers piled up a score of 22.

Heavy hitters of the game were A. Cakos with four for four, and Mascrop with four for five. Batteries for the Bonecrushers were Berba and Cakos.

The Bonecrushers vs. Strong Louie Davie's Sport Shop will vie the first half championship. This game will be played next Saturday.

Mrs. Bill and Manager Weston will entertain the Bonecrushers to a dinner immediately following the game.

The line-up is as follows: D. Bill, 3rd base; H. Bill, short stop; N. Allyn, 2nd base; R. Stark, first base; Fred Ross, Center field; Moscrop, right field; A. Cakos, Catcher; P. Berba, pitcher. Budapest Union of Two Cities

Budapest, the capital of Hungary, with a population of over a million, is a union of two cities connected by six bridges, Buda on the right bank and Pest on the left bank of the Danube.

NOTRE DAME will lose two, probably three, football games next fall. Nothing particularly wrong with the Irish, it's the schedule . . . More National League clubs are complaining bitterly about umpiring this season than at any time within the memory of man . . . Mike Jacobs has an answer for those "three-cent critics" who claimed that $40 was too much for a Schmeling-Louis ducat. His tax statement reveals that he peddled 4,700 of the gold-embroidered ducats and only 3,800 of the $3 variety . . . Dave Rabb, sensational young center forward of the New York (soccer) Hakoahs, is the son of a Brooklyn rabbi.

Even Van Mungo and the Dodgers get along better than Lefty Grove and his Boston teammates . . . There is a whisper that Al Weill will succeed Tom McArdle as matchmaker for the club occasionally known as the Twentieth Century . . . Mike McTigue will be one of the guests of honor when the Claremen's association has its moonlight sail on June 9 . . . Although they have been attracting banner crowds to the Burnt Mills Sunday polo games, Princeton's mallet swingers have to perform under assumed names. That is because the university trustees have blue law notions.

Bill Mehlhorn Is an Ardent Baseball Fan

Bill Mehlhorn, the golfer, also is a baseball fan. When he isn't whaling them off the tee or sinking a birdie, nothing pleases him more than to watch the nations' pastime . . . Both the Cards and the Cubs say that Jimmy Ripple would be of far more assistance to the Giants if he played deeper . . . Lieutenant Colonel Abe Hollow, Colonel Widener's aide, took the fashion plate title away from the glamorous Kansas Price at Aqueduct last week. Did it with a bright orange suit . . . Olympic statisticians note that it will take 80 tons of meat (poultry, 17 tons of fish, 120 tons of vegetables, 55 tons of flour, 12 tons of butter, 34,000 gallons of milk, 200,000 eggs, 32,000 oranges 52,000 grapefruits and 105,200 lemons to feed the athletes during two weeks of competition. The lemons, no doubt, will be obtained free of charge . . . The only woman jockey in Japan had her license revoked when the Department of Agriculture ruled that "the mixing of sexes on the turf may lead to undesirable results."

Some of Colonel Ruppert's very good friends insist that the Yankees tried to trade Lefty Gomez several weeks ago . . . Bookie Tim (I don't read the damn paper) Mara sounds like a broken record of George Givot when he lays down the law to his Turf and Gridiron Club followers. He dese, dos and dems the poor little bookies to death . . . Before he took baseball seriously the Cubs' Tex Carleton used to be a rodeo official down in Fort Worth. Was a scorekeeper, setting down the times and records for calf roping and similar events . . . Just for the sake of argument—if the rule concerning the maximum amount of hand bandages had not been enforced, wouldn't Schmeling have been able to hit harder, too?

Crew coaches continue the most hard boiled of all sporting gents before a race and the shrillest squawkers afterwards . . . As usual, Yale supplies the Leader . . . Even though he was quite a feet racer years ago, oblivion seems to be catching up with Bill Bingham, Harvard Olympic delegate . . . Note to the boys of the Huron Baseball club—Sorry, but your cars did not arrive in time. Hope Hans Wagner made a swell speech.

Buddy Hassett crooned so handsomely at the birthday party tossed by Mrs. Jimmy (once Lady Eaves) Jordan for Mrs. Frenchy Bordagaray that the Broadway night clubs again are waving contracts at the Brooklyn first sacker . . . Jazz Rogers, once a Baltimore baseball official, now runs a seafood house on Forty-third Street, New York . . . Bobby (Manhattan F. C.) and Tommy (Flushing Juniors) Roberts can hardly help being soccer stars. Their dad was one of the world's best when he played outside right for Barrow-in-Furness forty years or so ago.

ECONOMY

"Why does Andy tak sic lang strides noo-a-days?"

"He says it dinna war oot his shoes sae quick."

Would Be Better!

The warden of a prison was inclined to overdo the facilities for enjoyment which he gave his prisoners. Despite numerous reforms, the convicts were still dissatisfied.

"Say, you guys," he told them, angrily, "I've given you movies and baseball and everything else I can think of. What do you want now?"

"Well, warden," said a voice, "what about a cross-country run?"

Preferred It Straight

A judge was trying a case concerning the division of a stream. He had just returned to court after a good lunch, and counsel for the defense was speaking when he noticed that the judge was taking a nap. To rouse him he shouted, "We now come to the water, my lord—the water."

The judge, partly opening one eye, and putting his hand on the inkpot, said: "Very little, thank you."—Stray Stories Magazine.

RECALL BALLOT

Californians will have their chance to vote for a new Governor.

Not at the polls, true—but results of a post-card straw ballot being conducted by the United Organizations for Progressive Political Action, Los Angeles liberal combine, will heavily influence selections of a candidate to oppose Governor Frank F. Merriman on a recall ballot November 3, political observers felt.

Appearance of the recall on the ballot is a virtual certainty, heads being shown over 150.000 signatures to the recall petition, obtained in less than one month. Circulators have until August 10 to amass the required total of 279,000 names.

The post-card poll was decided upon as a means of fixing public opinion. A list of more than 5000 voters, selected at random from the state's 80 assembly districts, will be asked to indicate a first and second choice among the following leading contenders, Frank O'Brien, executive secretary of UOPPA, directing the recall move.

H. Dewey Anderson, educator and assemblyman; Manchester Bobby, publisher; Raymond L. Haight, attorney; John Anson Ford, supervisor, L. A. County; J. F. T. O'Connor, controller U. C. currency; Culbert L. Olson, state senator.

It might seem like more than a coincidence to some of the Denizens that ONE post office site is close to this building or close to that—be that as it may and regardless of whose property gets sold, (at a fair price)—it simmers down to getting as close to the mail trains without getting away from the business district.

Editor Progress—Sir:

Now this might seem like it is far fetched—or jumping at conclusions—but it seems to me like the netting of so many so-called rascals in another city is having a salutary effect on other public servants, they see plainly the city can be run (and probably better) even after half of them are thrown in jail. Or on the other hand, maybe I just imagine they are racing madly around cleaning up this and seizing that, etc.—now the excuse was heretofore that, you bloody well cawnt do that—but after a few years of this, young girls and women drinking and serving at these bars,—and married women GAMBLING their husbands wages away before buying shoes and milk for the Babies—public officials buying everything they wanted, raising their own pay—hiring more henchmen and working at the Chinamen and combines—mekers of parafanelia—pitchmen, stillmen (not standard) and so forth, why there just comes a time when a halt must be called, in other words—He who will not when he may, must tarry when he should.
